

EMPLOYER WORKSHOP SERIES

GOOD JOBS FOR ALL

Promoting neurodiversity in the workplace

OCTOBER 29, 2024 | 1:00 PM

While great strides have been made across the country to improve workplace inclusiveness, national studies indicate the unemployment rate for neurodiverse adults — people whose brains process and interpret information differently — can be as high as 30-40 percent.

Join us to recognize National Disability Employment Awareness Month in October. This virtual workshop explains the value and talents that workers with neurodivergent disabilities add to America’s workplaces and economy. See how employers can adapt their work environments and processes to be more inclusive.

WORKSHOP HIGHLIGHTS:

- Increase awareness and understanding of neurodiversity
- Understand the functional limitations of neurodiverse employees and how this impacts work
- Increase the success rate for employees with disabilities by implementing and promoting workplace inclusivity
